THIRD TRIMESTER TEA

You. Are. Almost. There. Yay! To celebrate, we made this for you. Organic Third Trimester Tea is a hearty blend of stinging nettles, chamomile, rosehips, oatstraw and red raspberry leaf, traditionally used to nurture your third trimester self.* Here's why: during the third trimester, your blood volume is increased significantly – and your new baby thinks it's a good idea to take an extra serving of your vitamins and minerals. Leaving you with the leftovers. That's where this herbal blend comes in, uncramping your style and helping prepare your body for labor and the birth of your miracle.*

HERBAL TEA HOW-TO

Pour boiling water over one tea bag. Steep 5-10 minutes. Sip 1-3 cups per day, or as recommended by your healthcare provider.

TEAM WORK MAKES THE DREAM WORK

Each herb in this tea was intentionally chosen because of how it works synergistically with the others in the formulation, amplifying their efficacy like a little symphony. It's like the colleagues who hang out together after work. They like each other – and that makes their job seamless.
