Discussion: L-Methionine is an essential amino acid not produced by the body. It must be acquired from Methionine rich foods such as fish, meat, dairy, and nuts, or from nutritional supplements. L-Methionine has antioxidant and cleansing properties, and it is also used by the body to produce SAME (S-Adenosyl-L-Methionine). L-Methionine may help provide nutritive support for normal synthesis of proteins and may also support healthy cardiovascular, cognitive, and organ function.[‡]
