SCIENCE CORNER

R-Lipoic Acid: Nature's Form

R-Lipoic Acid is a form of Lipoic Acid that occurs naturally in plants, animals and the body. It is responsible for the beneficial effects of Alpha Lipoic Acid.*

Alpha Lipoic Acid: 50% Unnatural Form

Alpha Lipoic Acid consists of a 50/50 mixture of the R-(natural) and S-(unnatural) enantiomers.

S-Lipoic Acid: Chemical By-Product of Alpha Lipoic Acid

S-Lipoic Acid is not found in nature and is a by-product from chemical synthesis of Alpha Lipoic Acid. It may also inhibit the most essential properties of the natural form.
