SCIENCE CORNER

Due to recent and exciting research study, scientists are exploring the many potential health benefits of high linoleic safflower oil. A recent university double blind cross-over study comparing high linoleic safflower oil to conjugated linoleic acid (CLA), showed that it may help to reduce trunk adipose (belly fat), support insulin sensitivity, maintain healthy blood glucose and support a healthy response to inflammation.*

Our high linoleic safflower oil is an all-natural, NON GMO, expeller pressed oil without the use of any harsh solvents or additives.
