

THE SCIENCE

ResistAid™ supports natural immune function and is a trademark of Lonza Ltd, Switzerland.

INCREASES THE BODY'S ADAPTIVE IMMUNE RESPONSE

Several components work together to build natural defenses to keep the body healthy. One vital component is built by the body to respond to specific immune challenges – the adaptive immune response.

A clinical trial on healthy adults suggested that those taking ResistAid™ had significant increases in the non-inflammatory, IgG adaptive immune response, when exposed to an immune challenge, over those taking placebo. It is generally accepted that increases in the IgG adaptive immune response indicates better defenses.

Further, ResistAid™ may support the appropriate response to an antigen without indiscriminately enhancing other arms of the immune system that would not be expected to respond.

PRODUCT INFO

IMMUNE SUPPORT – EVERYDAY

ResistAid™ is the immune supplement you take when you feel well and want to stay that way.

A clinical trial on healthy adults suggested that those taking ResistAid™ had twice the odds of staying healthy on the primary health measurements than those taking placebo.

ResistAid™ is a safe, natural extract of the larch tree clinically known to have important immune benefits.

FIBER & ANTIOXIDANTS

ResistAid™ also contains fiber and has antioxidant activity similar to that of pomegranates.

ResistAid™ offers:

- Proprietary, natural immune support from larch trees
- Year round, triple action immune support (direct, indirect and antioxidant capacity)
- Ability to modulate and support appropriate immune response
- Soluble dietary fiber
