

BODY FORTRESS® 100% PURE GLUTAMINE POWDER

Heavy training can take a toll on your muscles, and when you're training hard every day your body levels of Glutamine may be decreased. Hardcore lifters and athletes know that Glutamine is a conditionally essential amino acid during times of metabolic stress and that supplemental Glutamine helps maximize recovery.* Glutamine is used as a cellular fuel, supports protein metabolism, and may help replenish muscle glycogen stores when combined with carbohydrates.* Glutamine also promotes bicarbonate production, which can be important for buffering lactic acid produced during intense training.*
