The diagram illustrates the transport of various substances from the intestine to the blood. On the left, labeled 'INTESTINE', are yellow spheres for lactate, purple spheres for glucose, green spheres for fructose, and blue spheres for water. On the right, labeled 'BLOOD', are yellow spheres for lactate, purple spheres for glucose, green spheres for fructose, and blue spheres for water. Four transporters are shown moving substances from the intestine to the blood: LACTATE TRANSPORTER (yellow arrow), GLUCOSE TRANSPORTER (purple arrow), FRUCTOSE TRANSPORTER (green arrow), and WATER TRANSPORTER (blue arrow).

The carbohydrate sources in Cytomax utilize the following pathways: Maltodextrin and Dextrose follow the Glucose Pathway; Crystalline Fructose uses the Fructose Pathway;

Since we founded CyberSight® in 1998, we have been dedicated to working with sports sponsors, coaches and trainers to redefine positive youth enhancement products for active children and various athletes – supporting performance when it matters.

Over the years, we've expanded to create a comprehensive line that encompasses the athletic spectrum from preparation to hydration to recovery. Our products are among the only line of sports performance/recovery products to be NSF International (NSF for Sport)® Registered Label. Our products are also inspected and regulated by the PDA. We carefully manufacture our powder products and ready-to-use gels/briids in size of our target audience in California, California.

Major professional sports teams, colleges and universities are our primary customers, regardless of the sport. As our business grows, we grow with our customer. We have made numerous appearances at trade shows and events to promote our products, and we have been featured in numerous publications and on the radio. And we're proud to be a part of the sports community. For more information, please visit our website.

Through it all, CyberSight® has been committed to being there, building athletes from the inside out.
