Optimal-pH

At the cellular level, the body is constantly working to maintain an acid-base balance, which is commonly known as pH. The slightest imbalance of pH can be very detrimental to the functioning of bodily processes. The most important nutrients in our bodies for maintaining acid-base balance are minerals and trace minerals like those found in Optimal-pH.[†] Optimal-pH contains a full spectrum of over 72 ionic trace minerals from ConcenTrace[®] that helps maintain healthy pH in the body for optimal health and wellness in both body and mind.[†]
