

RELOAD is your primary OFFENSE for lean muscle protection and recovery. Specifically designed for hardcore athletes and serious bodybuilders, RELOAD's precisely calculated ratios of ingredients annihilates catabolic muscle damage by topping-off amino acid pools and accelerating muscle recovery, prior to and immediately following intense training and exercise. Maximizing your body's amino acid reserves prevents deterioration of hard-earned muscle mass, in turn reducing muscle fatigue, and extending energy/endurance levels. Much like any high powered artillery, RELOAD zeroes in on targeted muscles that require immediate replacement of crucial amino acids that help keep the body operating in the anabolic zone.

RELOAD's bioengineered blend of Branched Chain Amino Acids (BCAAs), L-Glutamine, and beta-alanine are delivered exponentially to the muscle through a sophisticated "super soluble" form for quick absorption with maximum bioavailability and nitrogen retention.

BCAAs (Leucine, Isoleucine & Valine) make up a whopping 33% of skeletal muscle and are more importantly 3 of the 9 essential amino acids required through diet. Additionally, they have tremendous importance related to their preferred use in metabolic energy production and the rebuilding of damaged muscle. L-Glutamine is the most abundant non-essential amino acid found in the body. This critical amino acid is not only required for skeletal muscle tissue, it helps improve gut mucosa integrity, and even helps the detoxification process by supporting glutathione peroxidase production. Supplementation of these critical nutrients oblate the downward spiral of muscle damage/loss due to exercise and metabolic catabolism.

Beta-alanine plays a crucial role in diminishing free ion damage (pH shifts) during and, more importantly, immediately following exercise. Vitamin B6 functions as a vitamin co-factor for metabolism and conversion (transamination) of amino acids into nitrogen compounds, as the body requires.

Remember: the best defense is a powerful OFFENSE. Why let your hard-earned muscle gains disappear when you can attack catabolism...arm yourself with RELOAD now!
