Jarrow Formulas® Organic Cordyceps is cultivated using patented technology from a wild Cordyceps strain found at high altitudes in the Himalayan Mountains of Tibet. It is a full spectrum product containing materials from all the growth stages – mycelium, fruitbodies and spores – and therefore the full range of physiologically active compounds.

Cordyceps traditionally has been used in Chinese medicine for strengthening Qi (energy).^{} Modern uses of Cordyceps include energy enhancement, stamina and immune function.^{}

Residual powder on the tablet surface is a normal result of the manufacturing process and does NOT affect product performance.

Keep out of the reach of children.
