

why HIT peak perform?

HIT PEAK PERFORM is an elite pre-workout for the serious athlete. Peak Perform features 3 of the most studied ingredients in the sports nutrition industry at clinically backed dosages; Peak ATP®, BetaPower™, and CarnoSyn®. By combining these three, highly effective, scientifically backed ingredients, we have created the most effective pre-workout on the market! This premium combination makes PEAK PERFORM the most beneficial supplement you can add to your pre workout regimen because it is clinically shown to give you more lean muscle mass, greater muscle excitability, improved endurance, increased blood flow and decreased recovery time. When you put the work into training your body, you want to be able to push harder, train longer, and consistently perform better. With PEAK PERFORM you will truly be able to achieve your peak performance!*

- Boosts muscle excitability. Greater excitability = Greater force, velocity, and endurance properties within the muscle!*
- Increases total strength by over 140% = Ability to lift greater weight and produce a greater number of repetitions per set!*
- Increases lean body mass by 100%!*
- Increases power by up to 30%!*
- Improved endurance and increased fat oxidation*
