The combination of PS-PA (Phosphatidylserine and Phosphatidic Acid) has been clinically demonstrated to support healthy stress response via adrenal-pituitary function by moderating the release of cortisol, a catabolic stress hormone.* PA also helps synergize the stress moderating effects of PS.*

Phosphatidylserine (PS) helps maintain neuronal membrane fluidity to support cell-to-cell communication, and hence may benefit cognition, mental performance, attentiveness and reaction time.*

Keep out of the reach of children.
