

Ultra K2-D3 provides the recommended amount of vitamins K2 and a liberal amount of vitamin D3, the preferred form of vitamin D. These vitamins are specific for calcium metabolism, bone health and density retention.[†] Research has recently shown the majority of North Americans are deficient in these vitamins, especially during dark winter months, and this is thought to be indirectly responsible for a portion of adult bone breakage. Rice bran contains natural carriers to insure availability of fat soluble nutrients. As a pleasant tasting, chewable tablet, Ultra K2-D3 is easily taken by people who find it difficult to swallow supplements and need vitamins K2 and D3.
