

EstroSoy Plus™ Difference

Fermented Soy

EstroSoy Plus is made from fermented soybeans with a proprietary process. Fermentation yields more isoflavones and a diversity of supportive nutrients including beta glucan and glutathione.

Easily Utilized

Because EstroSoy Plus contains fermented soy, it delivers isoflavones (60% genistein and 40% daidzein) in their free, unconjugated forms that are easily utilized by the body.

With Black Cohosh

EstroSoy Plus also contains black cohosh standardized extract to help relieve menopausal symptoms.*

GLUTEN FREE. Contains no sugar, salt, wheat, yeast, dairy products, artificial colors, flavors or preservatives.

Benefits of Soy

Soybeans contain phytoestrogen compounds called isoflavones, which help ease hormonal transition.*

Research shows that consuming a soy-rich diet supports:

- Breast and bone health.*
- Reduced incidence of hot flashes and other menopausal symptoms.*

The diets referred to in this research involve fermented soy found in foods such as natto, miso and tempeh. EstroSoy Plus™ provides fermented soy in convenient vegetarian capsules.
