

MET-RX® CARNITEST 1000

Hard training can take a toll on your body – decreasing recovery and halting your progress in the gym dead in its tracks. MET-Rx® CarniTest 1000 is one of the most versatile supplements available – perfect for runners, weightlifters, athletes and anyone trying to get into better shape.* Carnitine helps the body convert food to energy – providing support for endurance exercise (aerobic) and during recovery from high intensity activities such as weightlifting and sprinting (anaerobic).* Supplementing with our formula helps to maximize muscle carnitine concentrations at the gym or before athletic competition.
