

What Is LEUKIC® Pro Series?

LEUKIC® Pro Series is a mega-dosed, supercharged formula that delivers leucine to hard-training muscles. Leucine is an essential amino acid that you need to supply your body with from external sources since your body can't produce it on its own. Leucine plays a crucial role in the biological process of building muscle (protein synthesis). Not only does LEUKIC® Pro Series supply leucine, it also delivers additional advanced compounds that have been added to this supercharged formula.

Test Subjects Increased the Output of One of the Body's Primary Anabolic Growth Factors*

* In a study conducted at Baylor University, 10 physically active males who combined a single serving of one of the key compounds in LEUKIC® Pro Series with training significantly increased production of one of their body's most anabolic growth factors post-workout.†

When you take LEUKIC® Pro Series, you're getting a state-of-the-art supplement that supplies a key compound capable of driving up an important growth factor!†

Scientific Study Shows Key Compound Able to Amplify Androgen NR3C4 Receptor Concentration*

* In a journal-published, cross-over design study on another key compound in LEUKIC® Pro Series, 10 resistance-trained subjects increased androgen NR3C4 receptor concentration by significantly more than when taking a placebo in just 21 days. Researchers in this study theorized that this led to greater cellular uptake of testosterone.†

MuscleTech® researchers have added the exact dose of this university-tested compound to LEUKIC® Pro Series to increase androgen NR3C4 receptor concentration.†
