

MATRIX SYNERGY®

Product Summary

The matrix of your body includes the skeletal bones and joints held in position by muscles, ligaments and tendons. The bones not only hold the body upright and work as scaffolding for the largest organ of the body—the skin, they are an important part of the circulatory and immune system through the manufacturing of blood cells. This matrix also includes the heart; the body's hardest working muscle. It works nonstop – contracting and relaxing, beating over 100,000 times every 24 hours in balanced rhythm, and pumping life-giving blood to every organ, gland, cell and structure in the body. Matrix Synergy nutritionally enhances this system of structural support that includes the bones—pillars and posts of bold posture, strong yet flexible connective tissues, a strong heart muscle beating with rhythm and endurance, the nerves and healthy skin, hair and nails. It is the "rescue remedy" for rehabilitation of athletes and the elderly, essential for growing children and anti-aging of adults.
