Discussion:

MSM is a natural source of dietary sulfur, which plays a crucial role in the production of collagen and keratin. Collagen is a key component of cartilage and bones, while keratin helps support healthy hair, skin and nails. MSM helps to nourish and support tissues throughout the body, providing a remarkable range of benefits.

- Intended to provide nutritive support for strong flexible joints and connective tissue, including cartilage and tendons
- Excellent for hair, skin and nails
- Studies on recovery in sports and muscle health have been conducted with MSM
- Sulfur is a component of key amino acids, antioxidants, and immune compounds
