Easy-to-swallow lycopene softgels contain 10 mg of the important carotenoid, lycopene. Derived from tomato, lycopene is responsible for the healthy red color and is a more powerful free radical quencher than beta-carotene. As a potent antioxidant, lycopene helps prevent damage to cellular structures throughout the human body.* Recent scientific research suggests that lycopene may be an important tool for men who want to support prostate health and for those who wish to guard against UV.*
