Why Minerals Matter:

Minerals are especially important for your overall health. In fact, your blood, bones, nervous system, cells, tissues, and immune system all rely on them to keep your body operation at peak levels.[†]

In their natural form, minerals are not absorbed well by our bodies. Sure, our bodies try, by a natural process called chelation, to convert the minerals found in supplements into a more absorbable, organic form. However, this biological chelation is often flawed, which means the minerals we often pass right through our bodies, unused.[†]

Why Natrol® High Absorption Zinc Matters:

If you don't absorb it, you flush it – along with the time and money you're investing in your health. Natrol® High Absorption Zinc features chelated Zinc with up to 40% greater absorption of a key mineral your body needs.[†]
