ProstAvan® Prostate Support

What Makes It Different?

ProstAvan is a scientifically developed blend of lycopene, saw palmetto berry, pumpkin seed, selenium, vitamin E, and zinc—all natural-source ingredients that support prostate health without unwanted side effects.*

- Lycopene—a powerful antioxidant that gives tomatoes and other red fruits their red color and helps maintain normal prostate function*
- Saw palmetto berry—An extract of the fruit of Serenoa repens that is rich in fatty acids and phytosterols that has shown promise in treating enlarged prostates*
- Pumpkin seed—Rich in antioxidants and polyunsaturated fatty acids, pumpkin seed extract has been used for the treatment of urinary tract problems and enlarged prostates.*
- Zinc—a mineral most men don't get enough of and is associated with proper prostate function
- Selenium—a mineral that naturally occurs in foods such as whole grains, seafood, garlic, eggs and mushrooms. Selenium is believed to maintain a healthy prostate by neutralizing harmful free radicals.*

Why Is That Important?

Male health concerns are sometimes just too embarrassing for most men to talk about. Fortunately, ProstAvan helps men of all ages take a natural, targeted approach to prostate and urinary tract health.*

It Works Because...

Working together, the lycopene, saw palmetto berry, pumpkin seed, selenium, and zinc in ProstAvan assist a man's body in maintaining proper urinary function and sustaining a normal, healthy prostate. For best results, men should visit their doctor regularly, eat healthy, get regular exercise, and take one ProstAvan capsule daily.*
