Provex-Plus®

Now one capsule only!* A proprietary combination of grape seed extract, ginkgo biloba, and bilberry supports healthy circulation and helps protect organs from damaging free radicals.

It's the same trusted formula customers have been relying on for years, but now you only need one easy-to-swallow capsule a day to get all the benefits you love.

What Makes It Different?

Proanthocyanidins, the active ingredients in Provex-Plus, are found in grape seeds. These unique compounds help strengthen blood vessels. They also act as antioxidants to fight free radicals and contribute to your overall health.* (Free radicals are destructive molecules that can damage your cells.)

Provex-Plus also contains ginkgo biloba, sourced from an ancient plant that helps support proper blood circulation. The last ingredient in Provex-Plus is bilberry extract, a cousin to the blueberry that functions as a powerful antioxidant.*

It Works Because...

Provex Plus contains a potent source of proanthocyanidins—standardized grape seed extract in a patented, chemical-free system that uses no sulphur dioxide that some people are sensitive to.
