

Full Spectrum Elements™ are a proprietary blend of six natural mushroom-based compounds fortified with Colostrum, a natural substance which helps balance and support a healthy immune system. It provides a combination of immune and growth factors including immunoglobulins, lactoferrin and Insulin-like Growth Factor-1 (IGF-1), amino acids and other important nutrients. Scientific studies indicate that colostrum and nutrients derived from colostrum:

- Support normal immune system function*
- May stimulate the normal growth, regeneration and repair of muscle, skin collagen, bone cartilage, and nerve tissue*
- Support vitality and athletic performance*
- Promote a healthy digestive system*

Earthpulse Nanotronic Technologies has reduced this product to micron and sub-micron particle sizes in order to increase absorption of these nutrients and supporting compounds. Earthpulse Nanotronic processing reduces the material so that the nutrient bio-availability is increased, allowing the body to more quickly, easily, and completely absorb trace minerals and nutrients.*

Suggested usage: Two capsules per day with meal. When pregnant or nursing or if allergic to milk product or lactose intolerant, please consult a health care professional prior to use.
